Manager evaluation guide

Before you start:

1. Observe the trainer during the session, do not fill in the form from memory afterwards. Bring the form into the room.
2. Score each criterion independently. Do not let a strong first impression carry through every category.
3. Discuss the completed form with the trainer right after the training. The conversation is as important as the score.

1 – Poor: Does not demonstrate the expected behaviour
2 – Basic: Shows limited understanding, needs support
3 – Good: Meets expectations consistently
4 – Very Good: Often exceeds expectations
5 – Excellent: Consistently exceeds expectations and sets an example

Scoring rules:

- Score what you observed, not what you expected.
- Avoid the middle. A 3 is a meaningful score. Do not default to 3 when unsure, if you are unsure, note what you would have needed to see to score higher.
- One criterion at a time. Coaching is not the same as delivery. Score them separately even if the trainer is strong across the board.
- Do not adjust scores after the discussion. The form reflects what you observed, not what the trainer says in hindsight.
